Liturgy: ..... TLH, p. 5 ff. (Also available on laminated sheet in pew)

Introit (followed by Gloria Patri, The Kyrie): ..... TLH, pp. 6-7

P: Blessed are all who fear the Lord, who walk in His ways.

C: You will eat the fruit of your labor; blessings and prosperity will be yours.

P: Your wife will be like a fruitful vine with your house;

P: Thus is the man blessed who fears the Lord.

C: May you see the prosperity of Jerusalem, and may you live to see your children's children. Glory be to God!

Gloria in Excelsis: ..... TLH 246, st. 1,4: Holy, Holy, Holy

1. Holy, holy, holy! Lord God Almighty!
Early in the morning our song shall rise to Thee;
Holy, holy, holy, merciful and mighty!
God in Three Persons, blessed Trinity!

4. Holy, holy, holy! Lord God Almighty!
All Thy works shall praise Thy name in earth and sky and sea.
Holy, holy, holy, merciful and mighty!
God in Three Persons, blessed Trinity!

First Reading: ..... Romans 8:18-23

Since the Fall, the entire creation labors under the duress of sin. This is why we as the children of God eagerly look forward to our eternal redemption.

P: Alleluia. Alleluia. This is the Lord, we trusted in Him;

Second Reading: ..... John 6:26-35

After feeding the 5,000 miraculously with 5 loaves of bread and 2 small fish, people come to Jesus to seek more physical blessings. Jesus reminds them that laboring for food is not the real goal in life. Rather we are to believe on Him who is the Bread of Life, Jesus Himself.

(9) And you, masters, do the same things to them, giving up threatening, knowing that your own Master also is in heaven, and there is no partiality with Him. (NKJV®)

Ruth 2:2-3 And Ruth the Moabitess said to Naomi, "Let me go to the fields and pick up the leftover grain behind anyone in whose eyes I find favor." Naomi said to her, "Go ahead, my daughter." So she went out and began to glean in the fields behind the harvesters. As it turned out, she found herself working in a field belonging to Boaz, who was from the clan of Elimelech.

FIELDS OF LABOR

These days it seems almost "fashionable" for people to grumble about their work. They complain about their bosses, their working conditions, and their salaries. In the midst of all these complaints, they forget what a blessing their labor can be.

When Ruth looked out into the harvest field, she saw that field as God's way of providing for the needs of herself and her mother in law. "Let me go to the fields" she said. We find no indication of complaint nor did she suggest to the LORD that He ought to provide for her in another way.

By means of our work, God can take care of our earthly needs as well. Our fields of labor are fields through which He provides clothing and shoes, food and drink, land, goods, and all we need. Even if the kind of work we do doesn't put a paycheck in our hands directly, God can use it to bring all sorts of blessings to us and others.

Lest you think that the LORD simply sits around while you work, consider that while Ruth was laboring in the harvest field, He was working in that same field! It was among those very sheaves that God led her to Boaz whom she married. Boaz was the great-grandfather of David -- who was the great ancestor of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Genesis 2:15 Then the LORD God took the man and put him in the garden of Eden to tend and keep it.

THE BLESSING OF WORK

Labor is not something to be avoided -- it is a gift of God. Work is not something we do to get it over with because we have to; work is something we get to do, an activity God has given us that our lives might be full and happy. If you doubt this go to a nursing home or a hospital, talk to someone no longer able to do the work he once did. He or she will tell you.

Better yet, let's turn to the Word of our Maker, the Word of God in Genesis 2:15. Here we see how God created Adam and Eve and placed them in a perfect earthly home in order that they might "dress it and keep it", i.e., "to work the soil and look after it."

Sin has caused labor to be less than pure blessing. But even when work is a heavy burden -- that is not the whole story. It is also a valuable blessing.

God originally created human beings to be free of worry and trouble but not to be free of responsibility. Work was an important part of God's plan for the crown jewel of His creation. After all, the Creator made them -- male and female -- in His own likeness, made them to work even as He had.

So, work is not primarily a thing one does to live, but something one lives to do. It is an expression of the abilities and gifts God has given us, an activity in which we, like Adam, are to find spiritual, mental and physical satisfaction. There is joy and glory in following in the footsteps of our Creator.

Even better, through work we who have been redeemed by the work of the very Son of God, can offer ourselves in thanksgiving to God.
